Cascade's Ergonomic Product Manager to Present "Maximizing Computer Ergonomics" at National Ergonomics Conference

Steve Dadio, Cascade Ergonomic Product Manager, will present on the topic of "Maximizing Computer Workstation Ergonomics" along with Paul Gilkinson, Account Manager with Liberty Mutual Safety Solutions, at the National Ergonomics Conference and Exposition on December 5, 2008 in Las Vegas, Nevada. They will discuss the factors to consider when implementing a multi-tiered approach to computer workstation ergonomics. As companies make decisions to respond to marketplace demands and create more telecommuting situations, ergonomics programs need to include new strategies to prevent cumulative trauma disorders. The focus of this presentation will be on the integration of proactive and reactive ergonomic assessments in both office and home office environments. For more information call 1-866-493-ERGO.

Cascade to Host Ergonomic Assessment Seminar in Toronto

Cascade Disability Management is hosting a three-hour Ergonomic Assessment seminar, conducted by Steve Dadio, on October 16, 2008 in Toronto, Ontario. This ergonomic training program will teach the basic skills needed to create a healthy work environment, increase productivity and decrease ergonomic risk factors along with their associated costs. Attendees will further develop their skills at completing office-based ergonomic assessments. This seminar is a HSPA approved seminar and qualified for 2.0 CEUs through VRA Canada. For more information, or for registration materials, call 1-888-891-2050.

Steve Dadio, MA, CRC, is the Ergonomic Product Manager for Cascade Disability Management. He has over 20 years experience providing vocational rehabilitation services to various populations, including 12 years performing ergonomic assessments and implementing ergonomic programs at the corporate level. Steve has provided ergonomic training in companies of all sizes and currently manages the implementation of these programs for Cascade.
